

Each article of The Journal of AIS will contain the following statement regarding the copyright of material:

Copyright © 2013, by the Association for Information Systems. Permission to make digital or hard copies of all or part of this work for personal or classroom use is granted without fee provided that copies are not made or distributed for profit or commercial advantage and that copies bear this notice and full citation on the first page. Copyright for components of this work owned by others than the Association for Information Systems must be honored. Abstracting with credit is permitted. To copy otherwise, to republish, to post on servers for commercial use, or to redistribute to lists requires prior specific permission and/or fee. Request permission to publish from: AIS Administrative Office, P.O. Box 2712 Atlanta, GA, 30301-2712 Attn: Reprints, or via e-mail from ais@gsu.edu.

In addition, the author must declare that the manuscript is original and that the authors hold the exclusive copyright of the material. Upon publication, the authors transfer exclusive copyright to the Association for Information Systems through the publication, Journal of AIS.

The following rights are reserved by the author(s):

- 1 The right to use, free of charge, all or part of this article in future works of their own, such as books and lectures, giving reference to the original place of publication and copyright holding.
- 2 Authors may include a copy of their article on their Web page as long as it is clearly noted that the Association for Information Systems owns the copyright and that use for profit is not allowed. Such an author version must be identical to the final published version, and include a link to the Journal of AIS.
- 3 Electronic or print copies may be made for non-commercial personal or classroom use. In cases of classroom copies, copyright should be attributed to AIS on each copy.